Alexander Sullivan's Arraignment of the Dead Doctor.

The Murdered Agitator Charged with Rank Perjury.

A Day of Sensations in the Great Mystery--Arrest of One of the Witnesses--Dillon's Evidence.

By Telegraph to The Times.

CHICAGO, June 7.—[By the Associated Press.] This was a day of sensations in the Cronin inquest. Luke Dillon of Philadelphia, the highest or one of the highest of the executive officers of the Clan-na-Gael, took the witness stand, and in the course of his testimony, read from the archives of the association, a document penned under extraordinary circumstances by one of his own predecessors in the highest councils of the Clan, Alexander Sullivan of Chicago.

This document was dated New York, September 15, 1888, is addressed to P. A. O'Boyle, secretary, and is a protest by Sullivan against the presence of Dr. Cronin as a member of the committee to investigate charges against Sullivan, which held its session at Buffalo. Mr. Sullivan's protest against Cronin was on three grounds: First, that Cronin was his personal enemy; second, that he had expressed opinions in the case; and, third, that he was a unfit to be placed on any jury. To the first objection Sullivan cites Cronin's well-known and evident hostility toward the writer in many acts, his writing on the subject, etc. In regard to the second objection, Sullivan said it was only necessary for him to notice the fact that Cronin was a member of the executive body of the United Brotherhood, which had formulated charges against him; that he had expressed decided opinions in the case, and would not be accepted as a juror in any civil case in which Sullivan had anything to do. As to the third objection, Sullivan says: "I charge that the brand of perjury is so burnt into the scoundrel's brow that all the waters of the earth would not remove the brand." He was a delegate to the district convention at Chicago on March 23, 1884, to which two delegates were elected from each district. Yet Cronin, after officially reporting the election, circulated a report that only one delegate had been elected, and added that he would not be permitted to speak or present any suggestion from his district. Every other delegate testified that every delegate not only could speak, but was actually called up, and that every one, including Cronin, did speak. "Cronin was expelled a convicted liar who had added perjury to his slander," adds Sullivan.

Sullivan's protest then went on to show that Cronin was a perjurer in civil matters as well. The record obtained from Ireland showed that Cronin was baptized at Buttevant April 30, 1844. He had sworn that he lived at St. Catherines, Canada, until after the assassination of President Lincoln. Canadian militia, show that Cronin joined that company at the time of its organization in 1863 or 1864, and took the oath of allegiance to the Queen. The official records show that Cronin's father was a British subject. So Dr. Cronin up to the time he left Canada was a British subject, and if, as he stated, his father was naturalized in the United States before going to Canada, he voluntarily abandoned his American citizenship, just as his son swore allegiance and became a loyal British militiaman.

"Yet," adds Sullivan, "this creature swore in his name as a legal voter in St. Louis, and voted. After coming to Chicago and residing there one year, he sneaked down to Macoupin county, Ill., and swore that he arrived in the United States a minor under the age of 21, and secured his papers on this minor petition, thus falsely sworn to. This much of Cronin's character, I submit, should be considered in connection with any report his malice and prejudice may dictate."

A WITNESS ARRESTED.

John N. Beggs, Michael Whalen, a detective, and Peter McFeehan, who were expected to testify, were conspicuously absent.

It was discovered that Beggs had left the city. A card on his door said he had gone to Wisconsin.

Policeman Brown testified that he preferred charges of treason against Dr. Cronin in his camp of the Clan-na-Gael and asserted that he did it of his own motion, and not at the instigation of anybody.

At the close of his testimony he was arrested on suspicion of being the man who drove the buggy in which Cronin was decoyed to his death, but a number of persons who saw that man declared that he did not resemble Brown, and the latter was therefore released.

Luke Dilon of Philadelphia testified that Cronin frequently said to him that he believed Alexander Sullivan, to forward his ambition to rule the Irish and American politics, would murder him.

Dillon told of the trial at Buffalo of the charges against Sullivan, Boland and Feeley. These charges were of misappropriation of Clan-na-Gael funds, and were made by John Devoy. Witness said that when Sullivan learned that Cronin was to be a member of the Trial Committee, he denounced him in unmeasured terms, and after the trial it was voted to allow Sullivan to circulate with the findings of the Trial Committee the protest, the substance of which is given above.

Witness continued: "In June, 1882, John Devoy said that $300,000 and over was in the hands of the trio, and that over $180,000 was spent in violation of the constitution. This does not include the $100,000 given to Sullivan by Patrick Egan. I know nothing about that. The funds of the organization were supposed to be used to assist Ireland in gaining her liberty. There is nothing in the constitution requiring a man to sacrifice his life for the order."

Dillon said that there was nothing in the constitution of the Clan-na-Gael to interfere with a member's duty as an American citizen, except that the occasion might arise when he would have to violate the neutrality laws.

CRONIN'S THREATS.

Dillon then stated that the Trial Committee of six, of which Cronin was a member, was practically a jury. Besides the secretary, two of the committee took notes of the proceedings. These were Drs. Cronin and McCahey. After the trial Cronin refused to turn in his notes, when requested by the Executive Committee. He boasted in Chicago of having the documents and of intending to bring them out in the full convention of the Clan. Witness had advised him not to make such boasts, as he believed they jeopardized the Doctor's safety.

Capt. Lawrence Buckley of the Chicago Clan-na-Gael Guards was a member of the committee that expelled Cronin as a traitor in 1885. He testified that Dan Coughlin was on the committee, too, but that Le Caron was not. He said the attaching of Sullivan's protest to the report of the Trial Committee was approved by all of the Executive Committee except Patrick Egan, who was not present.

The Coroner asked Buckley if the Executive Committee ever ordered Cronin's removal, and witness answered emphatically in the negative.

The inquest was here adjourned for the day. The suspects, ex-Detective Whalen and Peter McGehan, the Philadelphian, were in the courtroom during the latter part of the afternoon.

SLICK PRACTICE.

FRED M'GREGOR'S EXPLANATIONS IN ORDER.

A Citation Issued for Him, but the Sheriff Failed to Find Him—Previous Straw-bond Busi—Bunco Rose Playing Injur Innocent Again.

There were two very wrathy ges of the Superior Court yesterday dge W. A. Cheney of Department o. 1 and Judge W. H. Clark of Depa ent No. 2. The cause of their an was the bold and smooth manner in hich the bunco men, Rose and Hoo ith the assistance of Attorney Fre Mc-Gregor, defeated the ends of ice by allowing Hood to escape on raw bond. The facts, as fully sta by THE TIMES yesterday, stand out change. Hood's release was p ured through a false statement e to Judge Clark by McGregor it is perfectly clear that Rose what was going on, in spite of his tions to the contrary. There is doubt that the process of getting up new bond was begun before he read the jail with Hood to surrender n. It transpired yesterday that Rose, who so innocently disclaims any knowledge of the bond transaction, pro ured a blank bond of Mr. Walker, k of Justice Lockwood's court a f days ago. The slick swindler, ever, overreached himself in this atter, as he did in his examinatio before Justice Lockwood. In attemp g to cook up a job to release hims from the old bond, with the custom sel-fishness that has made him s popular even amongst his own ass of "sure thing" men, he failed pro-ceed according to law, and is ld, as "Poker" Davis, the other s ety, is also held, on the old bon orney. stupidly traveled directly aw from the prescribed method of surr dering a man on bail. They procure no cer-tified copy of the bail bond; t gave no notice to the District orney. Rose merely went with Hood to the jail and thought that was all at was necessary. They got Hood leased fast enough, but the old bo holds good and Judge Cheney has rfeited it.

Yesterday morning the e was again called in court. The rtroom was crowded with term-tri jurors and spectators, and Rose se in an unusually facetious mood natting gaily with his attorneys, M s. Payton & Grant. As soon as rt con-vened, Mr. Payton moved another continuance, and in supp of his motion read an affidavit by se. The defendant set forth in the cument that some of his witnesses re still absent from the city, and at they were material witnesses in h behalf. He stated that he would rove by Harry Wicks that the h chart found in his (Rose's) room as made by Wicks, who had sold it Clifford Sparks, and that Sparks rented the room from the d There were other witnesses uld swear that Rose was with all day. Rose further states in affidavit that these witnesses a porarily absent from the city. He also states that the disappearance od was a surprise to him, and he knew nothing about the bo siness by which he secured his from cus-tody.

Deputy District Hardesty [illegible] the witnesses would [illegible] to Bond the matters set forth in the affidavit but not all. He would have to exam-ine it carefully before stating what he would admit.

The Court wanted Rose to say how he knew the witnesses were tempora-rily absent. He had stated so in the affidavit, and yet a continuance was asked for on the ground that the wit-nesses are absent from the State and cannot be found. If the witnesses are temporarily absent, Rose must know where they are, else how does he know they are temporarily absent?

Rose did not respond to the inquiry of the Court, and Mr. Hardesty filed an affidavit himself, stating that it was in regard to Hood's escape. He was prepared to state that Rose was cognizant of Hood's escape and a party to it.

Mr. Payton demanded the reading of the affidavit, to which Mr. Hardesty objected unless the term trial jurors withdrew. The Court allowed the reading, on the understanding that it was by request of defendant's counsel.

The affidavit by Jesse Hardesty con-tained the facts published in yester-day's TIMES in regard to the surrender of Hood and his subsequent release on a new bond and an order of the Court, procured by Attorney McGregor. It charged that McGregor was cognizant at the time of procuring the order from Judge Clark that Payton & Grant were Rose and Hood's attor-neys; also, that he knew the case against them was pending in Judge Cheney's court. He charged fraud in the procurement of the release of Hood, and asked for the punishment of the perpetrators of the crime. The affidavit being read, the Court agreed to continue the case until Wednesday next, for the purpose of allowing the defendant time to get his witnesses back to town.

The attitude of young McGregor in the matter was the subject of a great amount of comment on the streets during the day, and it was learned that steps are being taken to investigate his share in the discreditable bond-transaction. Late in the afternoon a citation was issued by Judge Cheney, ordering him to ap-pear next Monday morning at 10 o'clock and show cause why he should not be punished for contempt. The affidavit and citation were placed in the hands of the Sheriff and a search was made for McGregor. He was not seen on the streets during the day, and it was currently reported that he also had run away. In connection with this bond transaction it appears that McGregor was concerned in a similar bond matter once before, in which he received a sharp reprimand from the Court. It was in the case of a Chinaman who, like Hood, was within two days of trial, and was re-leased on a straw bond, which Mc-Gregor had drawn up. The Chinaman ran away and "the subsequent pro-ceedings interested him no more."

The officers looked for McGregor during the remainder of the afternoon, but could not find him anywhere. He is handled without gloves by attorneys for his treatment of Judge Clark, who approved the bond as a favor to an attorney, and was grossly deceived by McGregor. The latter told Judge Clark, in addi-tion to what has already been pub-lished, that he had made diligent search for Judge Lockwood and could not find him. This was in pursuance of the former statement that the bond was for a client of his whom Judge Lockwood had held over in bail of $2000 and was an absolute falsehood. McGregor must have known that Hood was not under bond by Lock-wood at the time he made the request for his release.

Judge Cheney, in conversation with a TIMES reporter yesterday, said that he was determined to get at the bottom of the crookedness and punish the men who are connected with it.

Up to a late hour last night the offi-cers had been unable to find Fred Mc-Gregor, and the opinion is gaining ground that he is afraid to face the consequences of his part in the bond transaction, and has gone to hunt Hood.

HARD LINES.

Poor Men Who Are Not Allowed to Walk Away.

Yesterday morning a couple of men, giving the names of James Kelly and Patrick Clifford, and apparently hard-working men, came to the Mayor's of-fice to try and get some sort of a note or paper by which they could get out of the county. They said that they were miners, and formerly worked in Amador county. When the Santa Clara excitement broke out they went to that place. The men claim that they had some money when they went to the mines, which was spent for sup-plies, and when they got broke they left, selling what they had to get to Los Angeles, where they arrived in a penniless condition. They were run in as vagrants and served terms in the County Jail, and when they were re-leased left the city to try and make their way east. They say that they got as far as Newhall, when they were again arrested, tried for vagrancy and sent back to the County Jail here. They served out their time and again started up the road. This time they got as far as Lancaster, when the Con-stable at that place nailed them, and they were given another term in jail. When their time expired, they again made an effort to get out of the county, this time taking another route. This time they got as far as Pomona, when they were again overhauled, and brought back to Los Angeles. They say that the man who made the arrest in this last instance was named Frank and claimed to be a Deputy Sheriff, and when they told him they proposed to lay their case before the Mayor he begged them not to do so. The men said that they did not want any char-ity, but they would like to get enough work to buy a railroad ticket out of Los Angeles county, and if this could not be done they would like to have Mr. Hazard give them a note asking Constables to allow them to get out of the county. The Mayor was not in, but Clerk Robinson was so impressed with the story that he sent the men to the Employment Bureau with a note, since which time they have not returned.

The men have certainly been in jail here, but whether their story is true or not cannot be ascertained.

ELLIS COLLEGE.

Undergraduates' Evening Duly Celebrated.

The commencement exercises of Ellis College began last night, with an un-dergraduates' evening. The audience hall was filled with spectators, and they were very appreciative of the efforts of the students. Considering the short time that the voices of the young ladies have been in training, since the holidays, their performances were admirable, and some of the in-strumental pieces were exquisitely rendered. The following programme was given:

Duet selected—Jessie Bonsall and Alice May Titt.
Vocal solo, "Love's Greeting" (Kolling)—Christie Rhodes.
French recitation, "Le Soir" (Victor Hugo)—Maud Anderson.
Piano solo, "Chaut du Braconier" (Ritter)—Ione Parsons.
Vocal solo, "God Guard Thee, Love" (Victor Nessler)—Letha Lewis.
Piano solo, selected—May Titt.
Vocal solo, "Trailing Arbutus" (Raff)—Ethel Stewart.
Vocal solo, "Santa Lucia" (G. Braga)—Jennie Bonsall.
French recitation, "Fable" (Selected)—Paul Ellis.
Piano solo, "Alceste" (Saint-Saëns)—Letha Lewis.
Vocal solo, "I Have a Suitor" (Jules Benedict)—Edith Giffin.
French recitation, "Fable" (Selected)—Alice Giffin.
Piano solo, "Spinning Wheel" (Spindler)—Christie Rhoder.
French recitation, "Fable" (Selected)—Ione Parsons.
Vocal solo, "Expectancy" (Dudley Buck)—Aura Parker.

Ethel Stewart, a bright little miss and the youngest pupil of the college, ren-dered her piano solo very nicely. The last number was a song, "Expectancy," by Miss Aura Parker. It was so well done that the audience was satisfied only with an encore. Tomorrow even-ing the baccalaureate services will take place, and the regular commencement exercises will occur Monday evening.

ADDITIONAL CONTRIBUTIONS BY THE COMMITTEE.

The Usual Meeting of the Committee—Preparations for the Concert Tonight—The Carload of California Products to Be Shipped to Philadelphia at Once—The Illinois Society Entertainment—Notes.

The Johnstown Relief Committee held its usual meeting yesterday morning, with Chairman Dunkelberger presiding, and all the members present but two, when the treasurer submitted his report, showing that up to date $2318.35 had been received by the committee.

A committee was appointed to select articles to make up the carload of California products to be sent to Philadelphia, there to be sold for the benefit of the sufferers, and a vote of thanks was tendered the Santa Fé Road for its liberal offer to transport the same free of charge.

Prof. Dohs tendered the use of his band for the concert this evening, which was accepted, and Mr. Dohs promised to give a street parade before the concert.

Messrs. Lehman & Doyle of the People's Theater volunteered their services to attend to the box office, which were accepted.

It was stated that everything was progressing favorably for the grand concert tonight, and a large number of tickets were being disposed of.

The propriety of dividing the money on hand between Johnstown and Seattle was informally discussed among the members, and most of them agreed that this would be a proper disposition to make of it in view of the fact that Seattle was a coast town and should receive part of the money.

There was some further discussion when the committee adjourned and started out on their usual collecting tour, but only made a short canvass on account of pressing business engagements. The gentlemen on the committee have labored faithfully in their work and deserve great credit for what they have accomplished. Additional contributions reported last night were as follows:

R. S. Baker	$30
J. W. Hendrick	10
Thomas B. Brown	10
Steve M. White	10
Houghton, Silent & Campbell	15
Hansen & Solano	10
Redondo Beach Company	50
Dan Freeman	50
Schallert-Ganahl Lumber Company	25
O. W. Childs	20

Smaller sums bring up the aggregate to $240.

Who Stole the Harness?

About the first of the month C. M. Wells, who lives at the corner of Ocean View and Merrill streets, reported at the police station that he had lost a couple of sets of harness, one double and one single, at the same time leaving a description of them. Yesterday Detectives Glass and Wallin found a teamster named Charley Campbell, who lives at No. 243 Buena Vista street, trying to sell the harness, and took him in. Campbell claimed that he bought the harness from a Mexican, but as he could give no account of him, he was locked up, charged with burglary, the harness having been stolen from the barn after it was locked up for the night. Campbell formerly worked for Mike Hopkins and the Citizens' Truck Company, but was laid off a few weeks ago, since which time he has been drinking heavily. He has a wife and seven children.

PARKS.

The Commissioners Will Stand on Their Rights.

The weekly meeting of the Park Commissioners was held last night in the Mayor's office, with His Honor presiding and Messrs. Bryant, Hubbell and Hutton present.

Before the meeting was called to order there was an informal discussion of the action of the Board of Public Works in recommending that the road through the Chavez Cañon, which runs through Elysian Park, be kept open, despite the protest of the Park Commission. It was the general sentiment of the members that the board had not treated them fairly, and the law was looked up on the matter, which proved conclusively that only the Park Commission had jurisdiction in the premises under article 12, section 113, of the charter, which reads as follows: "All lands and real property located in the city of Los Angeles which have been heretofore or which may be hereafter set apart or dedicated for the use of the public as a public park or parks shall forever remain to the use of the public as such park or parks, inviolate, and no part of said lands or real property shall ever be used or occupied for any other purpose. The reading of this section of the charter settled the matter to the satisfaction of the members, and the meeting was then called to order, and the minutes read, which were duly approved without amendment.

Several applications were received and placed on file, there being no vacancies to fill.

Mr. Hutton called attention to the necessity for something in the shape of a fence around Prospect Park to keep out stock, and submitted a proposition to furnish a serviceable four-foot fence at $7.50 per 100 feet. The Superintendent was instructed to make measurements as to the amount needed, and report at the next meeting.

The following demands were presented, approved and ordered paid: Pay-roll Westlake Park, $2432.50; for trees, etc., $24; S. M. Luitweiler, cultivator, $9.

Dr. Bryant called attention to the necessity of continuing work at Westlake Park, to save loss on what has already been completed, which would have to stop on account of no funds. After discussion the Doctor was authorized to employ the men for one week longer, but to inform them that as there was no money in the park fund, they would have to take their pay in warrants on the treasury.

Mr. Hutton called attention to the necessity for more benches for the Sixth-street Park, but the matter went over for lack of funds.

Dr. Bryant moved, as the sense of the commission, that they learn with regret of the action of the Board of Public Works in recommending the opening of the road through the Chavez Cañon, and deny the right of the Council to take such action, at the same time respectfully calling the attention of that honorable body to Article XII, section 113, of the charter. The motion was unanimously adopted.

Dr. Bryant brought up the matter of the inconvenience resulting from the obstruction of Seventh street by the construction of the cable railway, and called attention to the necessity of some thoroughfare into the city between Ninth and Temple streets, at the same time suggesting the opening of Ward street, as heretofore recommended.

There was some discussion over the matter, after which Mr. Hubbell moved that, owing to the partial obstruction of Seventh street, and Orange and Eighth streets not being opened, the attention of the Board of Public Works is again called to the petition of property-owners on Ward street, representing 7000 feet frontage on said street, heretofore filed with the Board of Public Works, for the opening of said Ward street. The motion was unanimously adopted, whereupon the board adjourned, and, on invitation of Mr. Hutton, repaired to a convenient place to recuperate after their arduous labors.

CHAUTAUQUA DAY.

Mrs. Field and Prof. Hirst Will Be Present.

Prof. George R. Crow, who is prominently identified with the Chautauqua movement here, received a note yesterday from Mrs. Mary H. Field, writing from San José in behalf of herself and Dr. Hirst, saying: "We shall both be at Long Beach on the appointed Chautauqua day, and shall take pleasure in greeting you all. Arrangements will be made for graduating exercises, and Dr. Hirst will present the diplomas. . . . The South California Chautauquans have had a great trial; certainly those who have persevered deserve great credit." The Chautauqua day alluded to will be July 18th, a day set apart in the session of the Methodist Alliance at Long Beach.

Two Inquests.

Coroner Meredith yesterday went down to Santa Ana, where he held two inquests, one on the body of a man named Andrew P. Hare, aged about 50 years, who died from injuries received by falling over the balusters of the Hotel Richelieu, Thursday morning, while on his way to his room. Hare was very drunk, and was being taken upstairs by the clerk of the house, Mr. St. John, and a man named Gray, the latter being behind him. When they reached the landing Hare refused to go any further unless Gray got from behind him, which he did, and this left him unprotected for a few seconds, when he tumbled headlong over the rail to the floor beneath, falling on his face. He was a native of New Jersey, and had been about Santa Ana for some time. He was discharged from his position Thursday morning for drunkenness.

The other case was that of a Chinese cook named Ah Mong, who died rather suddenly. After investigation the jury returned a verdict of death from natural causes.

A Stolen Shotgun.

Detective Glass has recovered a stolen shotgun, which the owner can have by calling at the police station and proving his property.

THE CABLE ROAD.

The Formal Opening of the First Section Today.

The power-house of the cable railroad company at Grand avenue and Seventh street presented a busy scene yesterday afternoon, when an army of workmen were engaged in getting everything in shape for the formal opening of the road today. The exterior of the building has been tastefully decorated with flags and bunting, while over the main entrances are large banners bearing suitable inscriptions, sending greeting and bidding all welcome. On the inside of the immense building all was activity. Busy workmen were engaged in putting up railings and getting the interior in proper condition for the visitors who will inspect the buildings today, while another large force were decorating the dummies and cars for the grand opening procession. Superintendent Robinson was everywhere, giving orders and exercising a general supervision over everything, and is confident that nothing will be left undone that is necessary for the complete success of the ceremonies today.

Invitations are out for the formal opening today, in which the city officials and a number of prominent citizens will take part.

At 1 p.m. ten trains, loaded with invited guests, will leave the engine-house at Seventh street and Grand avenue and will make a triumphal trip over the line.

Returning to the engine-house, a grand banquet will be served.

It is understood that the Mayor, members of the Council and other officials and prominent citizens will be present. It will be an auspicious day for Los Angeles.

Rease vs. Rease.

Divorce proceedings will be begun today by Mrs. Minnie B. Rease against her husband, B. R. Rease. Mrs. Rease is a very pretty young woman, only 19 years old. She was married not much over a year ago to her husband, and has a little infant. One short month after marriage Rease deserted her, and is now in San Diego. The charge under which the proceedings will be brought is desertion.

Runaway.

It was reported last night that Judge Campbell had been slightly injured by being thrown from his buggy, near the corner of First and Spring streets. The horse and buggy were taken to the police station, where they were afterward redeemed.

Grand Larceny.

Joe Boutill was arrested in East Los Angeles at 1:30 o'clock by Officer Craig on a charge of grand larceny. He was taken before Justice Savage and released.

I have used the CUTICURA REMEDIES with the best results. I used two bottles of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT, three boxes of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, and am cured of a terrible skin and scalp disease known as psoriasis. I had a fearful time. At first it would get better and worse at times. Sometimes my head would be a solid scab, and was at the time I began the use of the CUTICURA REMEDIES. My arms were covered with scabs from my elbows to shoulders, my breast was almost one solid scab, and my back covered with sores varying in size from a penny to a dollar. I had doctored with all the best doctors with no relief, and used many different medicines without effect. My case was hereditary, and I began to think incurable, but it began to heal from the first application of CUTICURA. ARCHER RUSSELL, Deshler, Ohio.

Skin Disease 6 Years Cured.

I am thankful to say that I have used the CUTICURA REMEDIES for about eight months with great success, and consider myself entirely cured of salt rheum, from which I have suffered for six years. I tried a number of medicines and two of the best doctors in the country, but found nothing that would effect a cure until I used your remedies.

MRS. A. MCLAFLIN, Morette, Mo.

The Worst Case of Scrofula Cured.

We have been selling your CUTICURA REMEDIES for years, and have the first complaint yet to receive from a purchaser. One of the worst cases of Scrofula I ever saw was cured by the use of five bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH.

Complete External and Internal Treatment for One Dollar.

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste, and hearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond most human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical, and rarely failing.

Sanford's Radical Cure

Consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and one IMPROVED INHALER, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION, Boston.

FREE from RHEUMATISM.

In one minute the Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster relieves rheumatic, sciatic, hip, kidney, chest, and muscular pains and weaknesses. The first and only pain-killing plaster.

As to rumored Federal appointments for Los Angeles, there is ground for the statement that nothing has been finally settled as yet.

EVERYTHING is reported quiet in Samoa, a truce being maintained between the contending natives. All the men-of-war had left Apia.

MAY we be permitted an interpellation? Yes? Then we rise to inquire: [illegible] and howl like [illegible].

SENATOR PAYNE of Ohio says he will not, under any circumstances, be a candidate for reëlection to the United States Senate. Mr. Payne possesses more sense than many of his friends give him credit for.

COL. J. C. KELTON has been appointed Adjutant-General of the army. This will prove satisfactory to army officers generally, with the exception of those veterans of the West who wanted to see Col. Whipple appointed.

THE Ventura Free Press and the Vidette have been consolidated under Stephen Bowers and Frank E. Smith. Dr. Bowers formerly for four years conducted the Free Press as a Republican paper with temperance leanings. The Vidette is now the only daily paper published in the county.

THE Governor of Connecticut has vetoed the bill providing for a secret ballot. He holds that it is too radical, cumbersome, expensive, opens the door to fraud, and will result in disfranchising voters. The House passed the bill over his veto, but subsequently reconsidered the action and laid it on the table.

THE TIMES yesterday published a summary of authoritative advices from San Diego, showing the state of political feeling there relative to Federal appointments. Facts enough have already been developed to warn Congressman Vandever against the danger of committing mistakes in his recommendations.

ALL the first and second cabin berths on steamers bound for Europe are already engaged up to the middle of July. No one can take cabin passage across the Atlantic for the next couple of months by the direct lines unless he has already bought his ticket. A gentleman who started from here last week for England on urgent business telegraphed for a vacant berth, but was compelled to go by the way of Glasgow.

The main cause of this rush is of course the Paris Exposition. The fact that the second cabins are even more crowded than the first indicates that many people of moderate means propose to spend their vacation on the continent.

AN editorial statement was made in the Herald the other day to the effect that E. J. Baldwin had said he could afford to pay $1000 an acre for good orange lands, plant the trees, and destroy them every ten years, and yet make big money. "There is no vaporing about this," says the Herald. There is certainly a great deal of misleading exaggeration in the statement. It is only a few days since we criticised a country paper for setting such misleading items in circulation. They do more harm to this section than the detractions of our enemies. As previously remarked, there is no need to exaggerate the profits of fruit-growing in this section. The truth is good enough.

SEATTLE NEEDS HELP.

Another terrible calamity has overtaken an American community. This time it is not flood, but fire, which has swept over a populous and busy city, reducing thousands, within a few hours, from affluence or comfort to penury—in some cases to the verge of starvation.

Seattle, the enterprising city on Puget Sound, which has made such rapid progress during the past few years, was on Thursday evening swept by a conflagration, which destroyed the entire business portion of the place and many residences besides. Had not Tacoma, like a generous rival, immediately forwarded a large supply of bread and meat to the stricken city, many of the people today would be suffering the pangs of hunger. Even as it is, their condition is such as to appeal most strongly to the humane and charitable. Without shelter, in a climate that, even at this season of the year, is more or less raw and foggy, without food, funds or employment, these poor people are indeed fit objects of sympathy.

We are aware that, even now, an appeal is being made to our citizens for another unfortunate community—an appeal which is meeting with a generous response—but we should not permit this to stand in the way of our reaching helping hand to those who are nearer home—our close neighbors, as it were; sharers with us in the struggles, the hopes and the ambitions of this great Pacific empire. The city of Tacoma, although a close rival of Seattle, set a grand example, by raising, within twenty-four hours, a fund of $50,000 for her devastated sister, as well as a large stock of provisions. Let us emulate this example. We know not how soon we may ourselves be visited by a similar calamity. Let us not belie the proverbial generosity of Californians, but give liberally where the need is so great and pressing.

THE TIMES will be pleased to receive, to promptly forward, and to faithfully account for all contributions sent to us for the sufferers by the Seattle fire.

THE PRESIDENT AND HIS CRITICS.

One of the most generally-discussed questions of the day among politicians is that of the relative rights of Senators and the President in the selection of men for office—the so-called question of "Senatorial courtesy." We have already, more than once, given plain expression to our views on this subject—views which some of our readers have seen fit to criticise. The following, from the New York Tribune, is in the same line of thought as that to which we have ourselves followed:

Benjamin Harrison was elected President of the United States in 1888, receiving 233 electoral votes, against 168 for Grover Cleveland, Democrat, and none were cast for any other Republican but for Harrison. Further, there were cast for Harrison electors 5,441,923 votes, and not any for any other Republican. This may be called old news, it is true. But there seem to be some persons who have not heard it, and who actually imagine that the President elected was not Mr. Harrison, but some other Republican.

The people elected President Harrison, and expected that the responsibilities of that high office would be borne and its duties discharged by him and not by anybody else. Yet there are some persons who seem disposed to find fault because the President tries to act upon his own judgment and to exercise his own discretion in appointments, either without consulting them, or without accepting as final their wishes when made known. Evidently they misapprehend the situation. The people did not intrust executive responsibility and power to them, but to him, and as the responsibility is his, so it is his duty to decide for himself, as far as he can, what he ought to do.

But, say these complaining persons: "It is utterly impossible for the President to act upon personal investigation and knowledge in the selection of all subordinate officials, and since he must get information from somebody, he ought to take the advice of" the complainant. The trouble here is a confusion of ideas. It is one thing to solicit information and receive advice, but it is a very different thing indeed to be bound to act upon only the information or advice which one man may give. If the President learns all that he can from those who are presumably in the best position to know the facts, and from both sides in each case, and not from one side only, he does right. But when the time comes to decide, he is bound to act upon the impressions which all the information and advice received have produced in his mind, and not upon the impressions which may prevail in the mind of somebody else. It is his business to do the deciding, and he must stand or fall according to the manner in which he meets that responsibility.

"But that will deprive Senators and Representatives and various other political leaders of the control of affairs in their various localities." Well, the Constitution does not provide that the two Senators from a State shall be Presidents for that State, nor that a Representative shall be President for his Congressional district. Neither do the people intrust the appointing power to the Senators, the Representatives or the party committeemen. The Constitution and laws confer the power upon the President, and the people have intrusted it to Mr. Harrison, and he is exercising it. If he makes mistakes, it is perfectly right to hold him responsible. But there is not an atom of propriety in blaming him because he does his duty as he sees it, when his judgment differs from that of others.

All the time of the President must thus be taken up, and grave matters of public business must thus be neglected." But has the President neglected any matter of public business? All the questions which have come up for decision, in relation to the different departments of the public service, have been decided without delay so far as the country has learned. Can anybody specify a single instance of neglect? If not, this would seem to be a mere pretext for depriving the President of part of his Constitutional power. It is his duty to employ his time as judiciously and usefully as he can, and when grave public questions engross that time, he will have less in which to consider evidence as to fitness of candidates. But the first thing needful at the outset is to get competent and faithful assistants in all branches of the service. If the President gives most of his time to that task, when the offices to be filled are the most important, those who find fault prompt the suspicion that they want him to abdicate part of his power in their favor.

THE NICARAGUA CANAL.

The Nicaragua enterprise is not only backed by American capital and influence, but it has the great advantage of a better route than the Panama canal. The total distance from the Atlantic to the Pacific by the Nicaragua route is, in round numbers, 170 miles, of which 56½ miles are lake, 64 miles river, and 20½ miles basin, leaving for actual canal only 29 miles.

It is estimated that 32 vessels can pass through any lock of the canal in one day. This allows 45 minutes for each lockage. The estimated net tonnage per vessel is 1750 tons, which are the figures for Suez in 1883. This gives a total annual tonnage of 20,000,000. It is believed, however, that the locks will be equal to 48 lockages a day for vessels of at least 2000 tons. This would give an annual tonnage of 35,000,000.

The estimated cost of the canal is in round numbers $66,000,000, including a contingent sum of 25 per cent. These estimates include the electric lighting of the canal, the lighting and buoying of the lake and the harbors, and railroads and telegraphs from the lake to the Pacific and from Greytown to the dam.

It is estimated by conservative authorities on the subject that the business of the canal will amount to from 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 tons in sight on the day it is opened.

THE Cincinnati Times-Star calls upon the Republicans of that State to take a strong stand in relation to the liquor traffic. The saloon business in Ohio, and especially in Cincinnati, says that journal, is a swollen and monstrous evil. Public opinion does not run to prohibition, but to high taxation. The Times-Star thinks that the coming Ohio Republican convention should declare for a uniform tax of $1000—that such an issue, boldly made, would infuse life and vigor into the Republican canvass. It believes that the party should wage the coming campaign on principles which would render it irresistible, and with these two universal rallying cries: 1. High taxation of saloons; 2. Low taxation of homes.

THE talk about dissensions in the Cabinet is said to originate mostly with Congressmen, who are dissatisfied with the President's persistence in refusing to remove commissioned officers of the civil service before the expiration of their terms; also to his disposition to make only such selections for office as are satisfactory to himself. By taking the responsibility for appointments upon himself, the President relieves his Cabinet officers of a great deal of responsibility. At the same time the politicians who are disappointed give it out that the Cabinet officers are as powerless as they are—and as much dissatisfied.

THE Boston Journal quotes from the Truckee Republican a paragraph about the snow, ice, frost and wind they have been having up there, and refers to it as a specimen of the weather "among the California mountains." We may expect to see this go the rounds of the eastern papers as another example of Southern California's deadly climate, attached to a statement that the frost killed half the orange trees. Eastern people don't distinguish much between Shasta and San Diego. It's all California to them.

The [illegible] Globe-Democrat has got the National Indian Defense Association down pretty fine. It says:

Secretary Noble's refusal to treat with the National Indian Defense Association upon the subject of the purchase of the Sioux lands will be generally approved. Said association is noted for its tendency to usurp powers which do not belong to it, and to make itself troublesome at every opportunity. The Government can be managed without its assistance, and Secretary Noble deserves thanks for declining to waste any more time in listening to its talk.

SENATOR MORGAN of Alabama thinks that from the present outlook "Mr. Cleveland's will be the only name mentioned in connection with the Democratic nomination for the Presidency in 1892."

A CINCINNATI real-estate firm is advertising suburban lots from $15 up at 50 cents a week. That is certainly within the reach of all. We never got our eligible subdivisions quite so way down as that, even when they were ten miles from nowhere.

THE San Bernardino Courier thinks there is no danger of the Bear Valley dam bursting, and that, even should it burst, Colton would be the only place that would be likely to suffer.

PRIVATE DALZELL is again before the public, this time as a candidate for Lieutenant-Governor of Ohio.

THE story about the insecurity of the City Hall tower is said to be unfounded. We trust so.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE OPERA COMPANY.—Yesterday Manager Wyatt sent tickets to San Francisco for 21 members of his company, who are now in that city, and they will be in this city Monday or Tuesday next. Mrs. Padelford, the prima donna, is undergoing a severe course of study. Her voice is in much better condition than ever before, and it is safe to predict that she will astonish the theater-goers of this city when she next appears before them.

MATTIE VICKERS.—This lively little actress and her company will arrive in the city tomorrow morning, and will open a week's engagement at the Los Angeles Theater in the evening.

THE OWLS.—This excellent club is in active rehearsal, and will be ready for Miss Mamie Short's benefit in about two weeks.

The Associated Press Far in the Lead.

[San Bernardino Courier.]

We must say that the Associated Press has covered itself with glory in reporting the horrifying details of the Johnstown catastrophe. Such enterprise is marvelous, and in this instance has distanced all competition. For instance, the reports from the Associated Press in the LOS ANGELES TIMES are infinitely fuller in important details and superlatively more satisfactory in every feature than those of the rival company, even in a metropolitan paper of the pretensions of the Call. We took the trouble to institute a comparison, and actual examination gives the palm to THE TIMES and the Herald over the Call. These "field" reporters of the Associated Press would surely make fine partisans in war, if dash, courage, judgment and snap, and an almost miraculous facility for overcoming every obstacle of flood and field, are good qualifications for partisans.

LOS ANGELES COLLEGE.

An Interesting Performance Last Night.

About fifteen hundred people spent a most pleasant evening with the undergraduates of the Los Angeles College in Hazard's Pavilion last night. An admission fee was charged for the benefit of the Johnstown sufferers, and quite a sum of money was raised. The performance opened with a selection by the orchestra, and a chorus by about forty voices gave "Deck We the Hallway." The young ladies demonstrated the fact that they have been thoroughly trained, and a number of good voices were noticed. The Delsarte class, composed of Maud Hoffman, Bertie Clark, Nancy Gotchalk, Birdie Emery, Lulu James, Ida Parker, Frances Stone, Florence Laventhal, Alberta Armstrong, Mamie Vawter and Rennick, Anna Henderson, Athalie Frye, Fannie Adams, gave a pretty performance in Greek movements. The girls are graceful, and present some beautiful pictures.

The "Legend of Bells" was given very satisfactorily by Miss Meery and the choral class. Miss Meery has a sweet voice, but it was hardly powerful enough for the hall.

A scene from Leah the Forsaken with Maud Hoffman in the title and Ida Parker as "Rudolph," was well rendered. Miss Hoffman has good deal of dramatic ability, and with proper training she would make a hit on the dramatic stage.

The gymnastic drill under Miss Alice M. Broadwell, the director, proved to be the most interesting feature of the evening. The young ladies showed a familiarity with Indian clubs and dumb bells and wands that it is surprising. The exercise lasted three-quarters of an hour, and the young ladies were frequently applauded.

SUPERVISORS.

THE QUESTION OF HORTICULTURAL COMMISSIONERS.

It is Argued Fully by the Proponents and Commissioners and Amicable Understanding Arrived at —Proceedings to Condemn the Garvanza Bridge.

By appointment the Horticultural Commissioners yesterday met the Supervisors in their room to report on the work of the former board. Present all the commissioners and the full Board of Supervisors.

Several petitions from orange-growers of this city and Alhambra were read, asking that the money appropriated for the expenses of the Horticultural Commission be devoted instead to the purchase and importation of the Australian lady-bug. The subject was then discussed at considerable length, L. J. Rose being the principal speaker. He first and argued to support the prayers of the petitioners, charging that the washes used had been of greater benefit to the orange trees than the insect, and saying that he had as yet seen no any satisfactory results from the lady-bug. William H. Workman also spoke to the same effect.

Commissioners Hamilton, Kercheval and Driffill spoke, explaining their work and showing its importance. If the funds should be cut off they will be unable to continue their work. They explained that washes had been used successfully and cases were cited in proof.

They explained that their purpose was to cooperate with the little enemy of the scale, and that the efforts of both were necessary to eradicate the terrible pest. Their arguments seemed to have a convincing effect upon the petitioners, the members of the board, and the large audience, and it was finally agreed by the Supervisors that the work of the Horticultural Commissioners should proceed upon the original plan made; that they should introduce the A. ladybug, and that on the 17th inst. the inspectors should begin their work in earnest, "tackling" the infected groves in detail.

On motion of Supervisor Davis, the following resolution was offered:

Resolved, that it is the wish of the board that the Insect Commissioners take immediate steps to introduce from Australia the Australian ladybug, and that the expense of the same be met by the county.

A resolution of thanks was voted to Mr. Wolfskill for his efforts in the introduction of the lady-bug into the county.

June 22d at 1:30 o'clock was set for a hearing in the matter of a change in Soledad road.

Knox Boring, Constable of Orange, was granted leave of absence for 60 days.

Bids for jails at Lancaster and Burbank were referred to Supervisor Martin, to report this morning.

Bids for the San Fernando-avenue bridge were opened and taken under consideration, and afterward the bid of S. Proctor for a Howe truss bridge was accepted. His bid was $10 a linear foot, amounting to $800.

Mr. Rust was directed to inspect the bridge across the Arroyo Seco, at Garvanza, and report upon its condition as soon as possible.

The position of matron at the County Farm was, on motion of Supervisor Rowan, discontinued.

The attention of Justice Twitchell of Santa Monica was directed, by motion, to the fact that he is the only Justice of the Peace living outside the city limits of Los Angeles who commits prisoners under arrest to the County Jail, has them returned to court for examination, and if found guilty, again commits them to the County Jail, thereby entailing a large expense on the county, which has to pay mileage three times instead of once.

Peter Sunmerville was employed to paint the four bridges on Nevada avenue for $90.

June 24th was set for a hearing in the matter of the condemnation of the Garvanza toll-bridge, it being claimed that it is in an unsafe condition.

Adjourned until this morning at 10 o'clock.

Carrie Abbott.

Carrie Abbott, an Alameda-street courtesan, arrested on a charge of robbing a young German named Max Fuerkampe, has escaped prosecution by the suicide of the complaining witness. He drowned himself in San Francisco a few days ago, as published in THE TIMES. He claimed that the woman robbed him of $285 in her room. The warrant for her arrest was returned to the District Attorney's office yesterday by the Sheriff.

What Does it Mean?

Yesterday afternoon it was reported at the police station that some one had made an attempt to burn a barn on the corner of Yale and Bernard streets. The fire bug placed coal oil on the floor, but must have been frightened off before he could touch a match to it.

THE SEATTLE FIRE.

Losses Will Run Far Into the Millions.

A Vigilance Committee Does Good Work During the Conflagration.

Long List of Those Who Were Burned Out.

The Governor of the Territory Issues a Call for Aid—The Work of Rebuilding Begun.

By Telegraph to The Times

SEATTLE (Wash.), June 7.—[By the Associated Press.] The fire of yesterday burned over an area of 94 acres, comprising 31 blocks, six of which formed the most valuable part of the city, being covered with the banks, best hotels and new brick buildings.

The boundary of the burned district is as follows: University, Front, Spring, Second, James, South Fourth, Mill and Water streets. This comprises the business portion of the city. The residence district escaped.

At Front and Spring streets the fire was stopped by an excavation for a building on the east side of the street, but it continued to rage with unabated fury on the west side and down to the water's edge for a distance of three blocks. Large corrugated warehouses went up like tinder, and sections of corrugated iron were carried up the hills on the air like feathers. In this district were at least 15 warehouses full of merchandise.

At 8:30 in the evening the fire finally burned out at the foot of University street for lack of material. It then crossed back to the east side of Front street at Seneca, but the fight by the bucket brigade prevented it from extending back into the residence portion of the city.

The fire got down to the Occidental Hotel about 5 p.m. Flames were rapidly consuming the Yesler-Leary building on one corner, the Butler block was in a blaze on the other corner and the hotel building soon caught and in a few minutes the whole building was in flames, the firemen having barely time to escape with their lives. Meanwhile the fire was rapidly crossing Yessler avenue to the opposite side of the street.

In a few moments the Kern block, opposite the Occidental, was in flames, and the conflagration which followed was so rapid that description is not possible.

Half an hour after the fire started people half a mile away began to move their personal effects and to plow and tear down buildings in the hope of checking the flames, but the fire raged on until it stopped at the water on one side and the steep hills on the other. At 7 o'clock the people on the hills looked down on 90 acres of flames. The fire sped with the wind. Many brick blocks were four stories in height, but a few minutes sufficed for their destruction.

On reaching the Whitechapel district, in South Seattle, the fire spread so rapidly that people were glad to escape with life. As soon as the citizens could rouse from their dismay, a two companies of militia called out and 200 special police sworn in, but not too soon, for thieves were pillaging stores. Hundreds of men systematically began the work of plunder, and these were reinforced by an army from Tacoma, who came by train. A policeman observed one man carrying coals and lighting a house that had hitherto escaped. He fired upon the villain, who took refuge in the house, which soon burned. The policeman fired every time the fellow showed his head. Finally he asked the man to come out, but the man was dead. Fifty thieves were arrested before midnight.

[illegible] are supplying coffee and food to the houseless and furnishing beds as far as possible.

BEGINNING TO REBUILD.

The loss will reach $10,000,000 but already in a number of places workmen have begun to grade and clear up lots preparatory to rebuilding. Many merchants have secured quarters in the residence portion of the city, and are open this morning with remnants of stock saved from the fire. The people have decided to rebuild the city with brick and stone. This decision was reached quickly and almost unanimously at a meeting held this morning.

The sum of $568 has been raised for the relief of the Johnstown sufferers, and when it was suggested at the meeting to keep the amount for home relief, a hundred voices said: "No, let her go."

A committee was appointed to confer with the city authorities as to widening the streets. Another committee was appointed to receive donations and extend relief.

The First Regiment is guarding property. The city is now quiet and everybody hopeful.

Gov. Miles C. Moore is here and has issued the following proclamation, copies of which have been sent to the Mayors of every city in Washington:

"The city of Seattle, the pride of Washington, is in ashes. A hurricane of fire swept over the queenly city and she is in ruins. Thousands of her citizens are without food or shelter. Nothing can subdue the indomitable spirit of her people. She will rise again. In her desolation she is not a supplicant, but there are homeless people to be sheltered and hungry ones to be fed. I appeal to the great-hearted people of our Territory who have recently so generously responded to the cry of distress from Johnstown, to heed this appeal for aid to their own suffering fellow-citizens. Subscriptions may be sent to Mayor Robert Moran.

"MILES C. MOORE, Governor."

THE LOSSES.

They are Now Estimated at From $15,000,000 to $16,000,000.

SEATTLE (Wash.), June 7.—[By the Associated Press.] The fire yesterday destroyed nine-tenths of the business portion of the city. The area devastated comprised 94 acres, thickly built. There were about 500 wooden and 50 brick buildings. The wooden buildings were mostly old and being in the fire limits, if they had alone burned no regret would have been felt, but every brick building in the town is gone except three. One of the former is Boston block, another the City Hall with the records.

ANOTHER ESTIMATE.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—The following shows the estimate here of losses at the Seattle fire:

Gibbon, commanding the Department of Columbia, has furnished 70 tents for the use of houseless families.

A Question of Bullion Rates.

CHICAGO, June 7.—The managers of the trans-Missouri railroads having failed to agree upon the question of bullion rates from Utah and Colorado to the Missouri River, the matter was appealed to the executive board of the Interstate Commerce Railway Association. The board rendered a decision today authorizing the proposed reduction from $15 to $13 a ton in the rate on bullion from Utah common points to the Missouri River, but refused to authorize any change in the existing rate of $7 a ton from Denver, Pueblo and other Colorado points.

A Will Broken.

SACAMENTO, June 7.—In the Superior Court today Judge Van Fleet rendered a decision in favor of the plaintiff, Mrs. Stevens Hubbard, to break the will of her father, the late A. J. Secret Ballot Vetoed.

HARTFORD (Ct.), June 7.—Gov. Bulkley today vetoed the bill providing for a secret ballot. He holds the bill is too radical, too cumbersome, too expensive, opens the door to fraud, and will result in disfranchising voters. The House then passed the bill over his veto, but subsequently reconsidered the action and laid the bill on the table.

Another Cable-car Accident.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—Flossie Payson, a little girl, was struck by one of the Sutter-street line dummies on the Larkin-street cable road this afternoon, and probably fatally injured. Fortunate Escape of Miners.

OROVILLE, June 7.—This morning a cave occurred at the Spring Valley mine at Cherokee. A bank 400 feet high came down, burying two "chiefs," together with all tools, into the mine. Had the cave occurred half an hour later a great many men would have been buried.

A Gain for Goff.

center. Had the break begun at the ends, the flow of water would have been so gradual that little or no harm might have resulted. Had the dam been at once cut at the ends, when the water began running over the center, the sudden breaking of the dam would have been at least greatly diminished, possibly prolonged, so that little harm would have resulted. The crest of the old dam had not been raised in its reconstruction of 1881. The old overflow channel through rock still remains, but owing to the sag of the crest in the middle of the dam only 5½ feet of water in it, instead of seven feet, were necessary to run the water over the crest, and the rock spill-way, narrow at best, had been further contracted by a close grating to prevent the escape of fish, capped by good-sized timbers, and to some slight degree, also, by a trestle footbridge.

The original discharge pipes at the foot of the dam had been permanently closed when reconstructed, and this, while a minor matter compared with others mentioned, further reduced the possible rate of the maximum of discharge. The net effect of all these differences of condition was that the dam as it stood was not much safer against excessive floods, apart from its than the original dam would have been with its crest only 3¾ to 4 feet high above the bottom of the rock spill-way, instead of 7 feet.

A large amount of old riprapping and slope wall still remains intact, and is of excellent quality. It does not appear that there was any great amount of leakage through the dam before it broke. The destruction came from the water flowing over the top.

Wellington said that no engineer of known and good standing for such work could possibly have been engaged on it, since in the particulars mentioned it violated the most elementary and universally understood requirements of good practice.

Estimates of the original dam indicate that it was made about half of earth and half of rock, but if so there was little evidence of it in the broken dam. The riprapping was merely a skin on each face with more or less loose spauls mixed with the earth. The dam was 72 feet above the water; 2 to 1 inside slope, 1½ to 1 outside slope, 20 feet wide on the top. The rock throughout was about one foot below the surface. The earth was pretty good material for such a dam, if it was to be built at all, being of a clayey nature, making good puddle. To this the fact of its standing intact since 1881 must be ascribed, as no engineer of standing would have ever tried to so construct it. The fact that the dam was reconstructed only after over 20 years' abandonment made it especially hard on the older part of the dam to withstand the pressure of water.

More Money Raised.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—Tonight the subscriptions to the Johnstown relief fund amounts to $50,000.

STOCKTON, June 7.—The canvassers today increased Stockton's contribution for the Johnstown sufferers to $2800. The Executive Committee tonight decided to divide the money between Johnstown and Seattle.

The Flood at Bellefonte.

BELLEFONTE (Pa.), June 7.—The flood last Friday night and Saturday played terrible havoc in Centre county in both loss of life and damage to property. Bellefonte itself suffered little, being built on the hills at Mackeysville. Fifteen bodies have been recovered near Bellefonte and 12 at Salonas.

A HORRIBLE CRIME.

Murder and Arson—Lynching Likely to Be the Sequel.

NASHVILLE (Tenn.), June 7.—[By the Associated Press.] A special from Knoxville to the American says: E. R. Reynolds and Thomas J. Lloyd, both noted hard cases, went to the house of Rev. Jacob Harness, a Baptist minister, late Wednesday night, for the purpose of robbery. Mrs. Harness and a half-witted son, aged 16, were alone in the house, the minister being away.

The robbers broke down the door, and rushed in, shooting the old lady dead in her tracks. The boy awakened by the noise and rushed out at another door. They followed him out, and overtaking him, beat him to death with a garden hose. They carried him back and threw him in the doorway.

They then ransacked the house, secured $74, and then to cover up their horrible crime, applied the torch. The house and contents were completely burned.

The murderers were arrested in a saloon at Jellico last night, and the officers started to Huntsville, where is located the County Jail of Scott county, with the prisoners. It is reported here tonight that the prisoners were taken from the jail at an early hour this morning and lynched. The rumor has not been confirmed.

Sense From the New Editor.

[Gen. Eli H. Murray in the San Diego Union.]

We frequently hear of false and abusive statements made by residents of Los Angeles about San Diego, and it is but natural that we should feel like resenting them. But it would be unfair to the good people of that city to hold them responsible for the utterances of a few. We are satisfied from the tone of the Los Angeles press of late that they wish to cultivate our friendship, and we should not be slow in letting them know that we have nothing but the most kindly feeling toward them. It is a short-sighted policy, as well as a wicked one, to try to aggrandize ourselves at the expense of our neighbors, and we trust that hereafter every paper in Southern California will cultivate the most friendly feelings between the different localities. What helps one part helps all; what injures one injures all. Let us have peace and good will.

Perhaps some over-anxious real-estate agents of the City of the Angels have, in times past, in their eagerness to sell property in that city, spoke slightingly of San Diego. Occasionally a man is interviewed on his arrival here from Los Angeles, who says he was told so-and-so about San Diego when in the former city, but no instance has ever occurred, or, if it has, has never been made public, where any representative man of Los Angeles has spoken derogatively or in the least unkindly spirit of this city.

The same may be said of the citizens and merchants of San Diego, in their feeling toward the thriving inland city. Any one with the smallest amount of business sense or perceptiveness can see that the interests of the two places are identical; that prosperity to the one means good times for the other, and whatever reports have come to this city from Los Angeles, which seem of a slighting character, are no doubt the foundationless gossip which finds its origin in the loquacity of the barber-shop, the bootblack-stand, and like places, where the man who shaves your face or blacks your boots feels called on to give his opinions while doing so. The judgment of a hotel man, for instance, given to a guest who may stay or go as he is influenced by what he hears must be taken with considerable salt. No clerk of a Los Angeles hostelry could be expected to laud San Diego or any other place so highly to a guest as to hasten his departure for the place praised.

THE P. AND O. STEAMERS.

It is certainly a most gratifying thought that not only has the Peninsular and Oriental business assumed a definite shape, in a date being fixed and the number of steamers to start mentioned, but news of the fact comes in a congratulatory message from a representative citizen of Los Angeles. The above telegrams [quoted] are self-explanatory, and it will not be many days before one of the great ocean carriers will pass Point Loma and ride down the bay, a harbinger of a new commerce, of better times, and placing San Diego in her proper place among the seaports of the world.

DESERT AND MOUNTAIN.

CAMPING IN A REMARKABLE VALLEY.

Mountains of Granite—Marble Sufficient to Build a Great City—Indian Towns and Ponies—A Geologist and Naturalist in the Saddle.

[WRITTEN FOR THE TIMES.]

At 3 o'clock a.m., May 24th, the conductor, awaking me from a sound sleep, said we had reached Indio. The warm night air from the desert confirmed the statement. We had descended through the Gorgonio Pass from an altitude of 2500 feet and were now 20 feet below the sea level. A. G. Fingman, the accommodating agent of the Southern Pacific Company, had been released for a few days to accompany me over the desert and into the mountains. He had secured three ponies from the Indians for our use, and but little further preparation was necessary to begin our journey. One of the ponies was packed with provisions, blankets and provender, when we started in a southeasterly direction across the desert for the San Jacinto Mountains. "Do you see that conical hill before us?" asked Fing. I replied in the affirmative. "That," said he, "is 18 miles distant, and is the spot where we enter the mountains through the Santa Rosa Cañon." It scarcely seemed five miles away. The mercury was 92° in the shade when we left the station, but rose to considerably over 100° by noon. Our ponies may have been descendants from Arab and Castilian stock, but the descent must bridge an enormous chasm. Riding ahead I heard Fing using language not found in that connection in Webster's Unabridged, when, turning about, I discovered that his "critter" had laid down to enjoy a roll in the sand. But while we found these small Indian horses slow travelers, yet they were kind and gentle, and could live on weeds and brush on which better stock could not survive.

After traveling about six miles, we came to a half dozen newly-constructed houses, thatched with brush, but not yet inhabited. A mile further on we came to an Indian village, and were met by a host of dogs, that, for poverty of flesh, would have put to shame Pharaoh's lean kine. An Indian accompanied us some distance to point out a well of water, and to put us on the right trail. The well was a large hole dug in the ground, with excavated steps leading down to the water. Near by was a sweathouse, made by digging a circular hole about three feet deep and ten or twelve feet in diameter. It was covered over with timber and earth, leaving a space of about six feet in height in the center. It was designed for a medicine-house, and used for the sick.

Our next halt was at Martines, which consists of about a dozen huts. The first to meet us was an old man, who badly needed a covering of fig leaves or something of the kind. We stopped near the house of an Indian whose name I have forgotten, but it signified "The-Man-who-can-Write." Here we unpacked our animals and took lunch. We were struck with the appearance of a dozen or more fine-looking cows lounging in the shade of the mesquite trees. Immediately on our arrival we saw two Indian girls start off with a bucket, and soon returned with it full of fresh milk for our use.

We were again in the saddle and on our way to the mountains. Two or three miles from the mouth of the cañon we were to ascend we encountered thousands of granite boulders brought down by winter floods. They increased in size as we ascended, some weighing many tons. They are blotched and streaked with orthoclase, syenite and quartz, and present an attractive appearance. Reaching the mouth of the cañon we ascended a few miles and came to a fine stream of pure mountain water. We had reached an altitude of 1500 feet and it being now sundown went into camp for the night. After partaking of a good supper we spread our blankets on the sand and with mountain walls on either side, and innumberable stars shining through the pure air above us we were soon lulled to sleep by the murmuring brook, remembering the day's toils and incidents only in dreams.

We arose early next morning, and, after a hasty breakfast, resumed our journey. Less than a mile from our camp we left the Santa Rosa and turned into a cañon coming in from the east, which we named Marble Cañon. On account of the boulders we were soon compelled to leave our ponies and ascend on foot. In about two miles we came to flowing water, and a mile further we came to a vast ledge of white and variegated marble. The barometer here marked 2625 feet altitude. The formation of these mountains, as far as I had opportunity to examine them, is granite, and, while destitute of fossils, are doubtless not later than the Miocene period. This great bed of marble, which is probably miles in extent, and the examination of which induced us to make the journey thither, is, unfortunately, practically inaccessible. There is enough here, could it be mined and taken away, to build a large city. But whether it will ever be sufficiently valuable to pay for transporting from these mountain fastnesses, future generations must determine.

Returning we reached our camp at noon, and descending to near the mouth of the cañon, made a detour eastwardly. Here, at the base of the mountain, is a large ledge of milky quartz capped with granite. Micaceous and other metamorphic, and also igneous rocks occur in this range. We made our camp at night at Martines, and the following day visited Forris and the water line of the old sea that once rolled over these plains, and the following day went to the palm groves that flourish in this remarkable valley, all of which will receive attention in my next communication.

French Lawmakers Unable to Work Harmoniously—The Berlin Diplomats Waiting to Hear from Home.

By Telegraph to The Times.

LONDON, June 7.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The Times, commenting on the Johnstown disaster and the fire at Seattle says: "While we may be thankful for immunity from these occasional penalties of material greatness, we cannot forget—and it is satisfying to see that our countrymen have not forgotten—that the Americans are our brethren in sorrow and sufferings which make the whole world kin, and are entitled to special and active sympathy from ourselves."

The Chronicle says: "The Johnstown and Seattle disasters would appear to show that the rapidity with which our American cousins manage engineering and building operations is not always conducive to the safety of life and property, when the elements attack them violently."

FROM SAMOA.

An Armed Truce Still Maintained Between the Natives.

SYDNEY (N. S. W.), June 7.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The steamer Lubeck arrived from Apia, with advices to May 28th.

Everything is quiet in Samoa. A truce is maintained between the contending natives. Owing to reports that additional German men-of-war are on the way to Apia, Mataafa has recalled his followers. It was expected 3000 of his men would assemble in one camp shortly.

Tamasese and 3000 adherents remained encamped at Atna.

The British man-of-war Rapid sailed for the Fiji Islands.

The American steamer Nipsic, convoyed by the steamer Alert, has gone to Tuitula for coal, and from there to proceed for Auckland.

NOTES FROM ABROAD.

French Senators Decline to Play Second Fiddle for the Deputies.

PARIS, June 7.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] The Chamber of Deputies today appointed a mixed committee, consisting of 33 Deputies and 18 Senators, to discuss disputed points in the Recruiting Bill, especially the Senate's exemption of theological students.

When the decision of the Chamber of Deputies was announced in the Senate, Barbey urged that there be an equal number of Senators on the committee.

De Frercynet, Minister of War, opposed the proposition of Barbey.

A prolonged uproar followed, and the discussion ended in the adoption of a resolution that the committee recently appointed by the Senate should confer with the committee of the Chamber of Deputies.

THE SAMOAN CONFERENCE.

LONDON, June 7.—The Berlin correspondent of the Times says: "The American and English delegates to the Samoan Conference are still waiting for the necessary powers for a final conference. It is evident that America is discontented on some points, and more committee work is not likely.

Fellow Feeling.

[San Diego Union.]

"He jests at scars who never felt a wound," and those who have suffered are the first to sympathize with those who suffer.

At the call for help for the flood sufferers, the first to move in the matter is shown in a paper before us, as follows: "We, the fishermen of Pirates' Cove, respectfully subscribe," etc. These brave and rugged men, who are buffeted by the waves and wrest their living from the depths and before the storms of the ocean, and who so well know the danger of rushing waters, are the first to be touched, and to turn a hand with material aid for the distressed people of Johnstown.

Fine Writing.

[South Oceanside Diamond.]

Times are hard, money is scarce and the hard luck of an editor is proverbial, yet we thank the Lord that no would-be poet inflicts his loathsome presence upon us, and as a consequence our ink barrel contains no ghastly skeleton with literary hopes dashed into oblivion, for which we must answer in the uncertain tribunal of a misty future.

His Shotgun.

Last night at 10:10 o'clock Police Officer Leverich arrested James Brea on a warrant charging him with exhibiting deadly weapons. A neighbor's dog bothered Brea, and he flourished his shotgun in a manner which caused the neighbor to take out a warrant for his arrest.

Quartette, "Calm Be Thy Slumbers."
Benediction—Rev. D. D. Hill.

The evening's work resulted in voluntary contributions and collections amounting to $354.95; previously collected, $489, making a total of $843.95. Of the total amount, $300 will go to Seattle, and the balance to Johnstown. The San Gabriel Valley Bank gave $50, and Judge Magee $25.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Pasadena Lodge No. 374, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, held a semi-annual election of officers at their rooms in the Doty block last evening. They will be duly installed at the first meeting in July. They are: Noble Grand, Ed Dearth; Vice Grand, George F. Peabody; Recording Secretary, J. D. Jones; Permanant Secretary, S. P. Swearingen; Treasurer, T. [illegible]; Trustee, John [illegible].

LOCAL MENTION.

The police reported having found a horse and carriage on the streets last evening.

The revival services at the Friends' Church still revive.

The young people of the Presbyterian Church are busy making arrangements for a sociable in the near future.

The City Board of Trustees meet tomorrow morning in regular session. It is hoped that at this meeting the question of the purchase of a steam fire engine and a municipal building will be taken up.

A SAD ACCIDENT.

Last evening, as William Hahn and his venerable wife were returning home, after attending the services at the German Baptist Church, near North Pasadena, the horse, which was being driven, took fright, from some unexplained reason, and dashed down Fair Oaks avenue at a lively rate of speed. In endeavoring to check the animal, an accident occurred, throwing the occupants out and considerably shaking them up. On examination, however, it was found that the right arm of Mrs. Hahn had been broken at the wrist. She also received an ugly scalp wound. The lady is over 60 years of age, and, as she was being removed to the house of W. H. Conrad, cried bitterly from the great pain she suffered. At about 1 o'clock this morning the two were taken to their residence, on Oakland avenue, near Center street. The horse and buggy were found this morning, the latter being a complete wreck.

ROUND ABOUT TOWN.

The lodge of A.O.U.W. raised a fund this evening at its meeting in aid of the Johnstown sufferers.

The financial statement of the city is promised for tomorrow. It makes good Sunday reading for those who will take the trouble.

The franchise of John Cross for a rapid transit railroad to enter the city will be discussed by the Council tomorrow, and granted beyond question.

PERSONAL.

E. S. Frost and family are making preparations for an extended trip east, starting on Monday.

Frank A. Haskell has received a telegram announcing the serious illness of his mother at Boston.

Dr. J. K. Wade, who has been ill for some time, left with his wife for Lowell, Mass., last evening.

A Fatigued Contemporary.

[Pasadena Union.]

The Star makes us weary with its allusions to "rings" and "bosses," and is as far from the truth in such references as usual. Pasadena has got neither "bosses" nor "rings," but one thing is certain, no individual, whether from Iowa or elsewhere, can dictate certain things, that the majority of the citizens of this burg object to. Sabe?

ABLE REJOINDER.

[Star.]

Exactly! And "the citizens of this burg" made you and a few others fell very, very "weary" last Tuesday by smashing your little slate all to flinders. Glad to see that you sabe the situation, acknowledge the corn and publicly declare that the people have no use for any boss, not even an "Iowa" boss. Now take some soothing syrup or worm lozenges and go to bed.

Rev. Father Henneberg.

Father Henneberg will deliver his first mission sermon in English next Sunday, at the mass of 10:30 a.m., at the Catholic Church opposite the Plaza, and he will preach in English every night at 7:30 for eight days. 9

THE UNIVERSALISTS.

Choice of the State Convention at Santa Paula.

SANTA PAULA, June 6.—[Correspondence of THE TIMES.] The California State Convention of Universalists closed its session in this place at noon today. It has been a very successful one in point of numbers and profitable to the denomination which it represents.

Papers were read yesterday afternoon by Rev. L. M. Andrews of Santa Paula on the "Advance Movement;" by E. E. Spalding of Pasadena on "Our State Work," and by Rev. D. T. Murphy of Santa Paula on "Education." These papers merited and received close attention. The evening was devoted to a sermon by Rev. E. L. Conger of Pasadena on "The Missionary Work to Be Done by the Universalist Church." The sermon was followed by an address by Rev. P. S. Thacher of Santa Barbara on the same general theme. The hall where the services were held was well filled with an attentive and interested congregation. The choir rendered excellent service, and the meeting was one to be remembered in the little town.

A live conference and prayer-meeting opened the exercises of today, in which every minister was filled by song, by prayer and exhortation, 20 persons taking part.

Following this meeting was a powerful address by P. S. Thacher. Subject, "Loving God with the Mind."

Perhaps as fine a paper as any was the last one presented. The subject was "Religion and Law," and it was given by W. E. Shepherd, Esq., of Ventura.

Resolutions on the subject of temperance, urging organization and effort for missionary work, of sympathy and fraternal good feeling for the work begun in Scotland, commending to the church the work of organizing a denominational school in California were passed.

This Universalist body, which was organized and held its first meeting two years ago, has just been incorporated by the State. It has applied to the General Convention of Universalists of the United States for recognition by and fellowship in that body, and it will receive such recognition at the annual session of that body in Lynn, Mass., in October.

The Santa Paula parish, with which this meeting was held, is the latest offspring of the cause in this State, being scarcely four months old.

The officers-elect for the ensuing year are Hon. A. G. Throop, Pasadena, president; Rev. Dr. G. H. Deere, Riverside, vice-president; Rev. E. L. Conger, Pasadena, secretary; A. H. Conger, Pasadena, treasurer; Maj. G. F. Robinson, U.S.A., Oakland, W. L. Hardison, Santa Paula, William Finch, Riverside, trustees.

ATTENTION!

Cheap Land -:- Good Land.

Dr. E. T. Barber of Lancaster, Antelope Valley, Los Angeles county, Cal., offers 30,000 acres of land for sale, in tracts of 20 acres and upward, at $5 to 50 per acre, with liberal terms and title guaranteed.

This valley has raised the premium wheat of the world; sugar beets at the rate of 213 tons to the acre; barley hay, three tons; eight crops of alfalfa in one year; parsnips seven inches in diameter, and is competent to compete with Spain for raisins, and France for champagne.

All this land offered can be covered with mountain water, and has good surface and artesian water, and much of it has a subsoil irrigation.

The railroad facilities are good; the Southern Pacific Railroad now crosses it, and three other great railroads are expected to do so in the near future.

Climate good—no cyclones, blizzards, fogs or malaria.

Antelope Valley is the hope of the poor, a boon to men of moderate means, and a bonanza to keen-sighted business men.

Sewing Machine.

OUR PREMIUM
HIGH-ARM
SEWING-MACHINE!

TESTIMONIALS:

The following are letters received by the Times-Mirror Company from subscribers who have purchased the Premium Sewing-machine through us:

"GIVING PERFECT SATISFACTION."

J. W. Ross, Pasadena, writes: The Times-Mirror Sewing-machine is giving perfect satisfaction; in my opinion it is as good as any $65 machine. I have not done any heavy work on it yet, but I think it will do it all right.

"HIGHLY PLEASED WITH IT."

Mrs. Edwin Brown, Los Angeles: In reply to yours of 20th would state that I am highly pleased with the Premium Sewing-machine I received with the MIRROR. Gives every satisfaction; so easy to learn how to manage; does such excellent work; in fact cannot praise it too much, and would not take twice the amount it cost me.

"THE MORE WE USE IT THE BETTER WE LIKE IT."

Mrs. S. A. Ware, Pasadena: I have used your sewing-machine since last July. The more we use it the better we like it. On fine and heavy work it is splendid. We have tried the attachment. In fact it goes ahead of your advertisement so far.

"LIKES IT BETTER THAN THE $135 SINGER."

Joseph Wilson, Los Angeles: The machine gives entire satisfaction. My wife likes it better than the $125 Singer that it has replaced.

"GIVES GOOD SATISFACTION."

S. W. True, East Los Angeles: We have the High-Arm Machine and use it for light family sewing. It gives good satisfaction.

"RUNS SMOOTH—AND SEWS EVERYTHING BUT BUTTONS."

William P. Wade, Los Angeles: The report of the chief engineer of the sewing department of my domestic establishment is to the effect that the sewing-machine lately furnished by you for $22 arrived in good order and in due time, and has given entire satisfaction. It runs lightly and with very little noise and performs to perfection all kinds of sewing work with the exception of buttons. [When the freight is paid to Los Angeles by the Times-Mirror Company the price is $25.50.]

"TRIED 'EM ALL AND LIKES THE MIRROR MACHINE BEST."

William L. Price, 218 Temple street, Los Angeles: My wife tried several $75 machines, and chose the Mirror Premium Sewing-machine as an equal to the best in the market, for one-fourth of the money. It is perfect in all particulars, and admired by all who see it. My wife has been using it several months, and we both cheerfully recommend it to the public as represented.

"SAME IN WORKMANSHIP AND MATERIAL AS THE HIGH-PRICED ARTICLE."

C. E. Spencer, Los Angeles: Having sold hundreds of the Remington Sewing-machines for $65, which you are now offering with the WEEKLY MIRROR at $22, [$25.50 when freight is paid to Los Angeles], I wish to say that the machine you offer is identically the same as the high-priced article, both as to material, workmanship and capacity. Being a resident here and an experienced sewing-machine man, I will take pleasure in instructing any one in working the machine, in this place or vicinity.

"IS DELIGHTED WITH IT."

Mrs. J. W. Stringfield, Pomona: The High-arm Mirror Sewing-machine came in good time, in excellent condition, without scratch or blemish, and I am delighted with it. We believe the machine is all that you recommend it to be, and think it a rare opportunity for those who may want a machine to get a first-class one cheap.

"PERFECT IN EVERY RESPECT."

Mrs. E. C. Cranston, Norwalk: The High-arm Premium Machine arrived in prime condition, and is perfect in every respect. Freight $3.50, with first cost added, making $22.80 for as good a machine as is usually sold through agents for $75. Well pleased. [$25.50 when freight is paid to Los Angeles.]

"VERY MUCH PLEASED WITH IT."

Mrs. Martha Allison, Downey: I am very much pleased with my machine as far as I have used it, and feel safe in saying that I have just as good a machine as if I had given $65 for it. Shall advise any of my friends to try this before buying any other, as I think it is fully as good as represented.

"RUNS LIGHT AND EASY—DOES ITS WORK WELL."

S. M. Shaw, Pasadena: I can say in regard to the machine that it is well liked. It runs light and easy, and does its work well. It is a very cheap machine at the price you furnish it.

"EQUAL TO THE BEST SHE EVER USED."

William T. Parcel, Compton: The High-arm Sewing-machine ordered from your company was received in good order, and Mrs. Parce says it is equal to the best of any other kind she has ever used.

"PROVES SATISFACTORY."

W. F. Beadley, San Gabriel: The sewing machine we received through your office proves satisfactory.

"WIFE THINKS IT THE BEST SHE EVER USED."

J. W. McLellan, Tustin City: We received Premium Sewing-machine through your office, and my wife thinks it the best she ever used; consequently are well pleased.

"SUPERIOR IN SOME RESPECTS TO THE BEST."

S. A. Mattison, Los Angeles: My wife and daughter are well pleased with your Times-Mirror Sewing-machine. They have used several of the best makes of machines, and yet say your machine is superior in some respects to those they have used, and in no way inferior. They were at first afraid, as many are, no doubt, that it is too cheap to be first-class, but are now satisfied that it is as good as machines costing three or four times as much.

"TIGHTENED THE SCREW AND SHE RUNS ALL RIGHT."

L. A. Myers, Newhall: Yours of the 1st inst. received. Will say in reply that soon after I wrote you I discovered the cause of the trouble. The little tension screw in the shuttle had worked loose and was nearly out, and the shuttle thread, in sewing fast, would catch on the screw and break. I tightened the screw and it now works like a charm; no more breaking thread or irregularity of stitch.

"ONE OF THE BEST INVESTMENTS THEY EVER MADE."

Mrs. U. L. Shaffer, Orange: We received our High-armed Sewing-machine in good order, and I am very much pleased with it, and consider it one of the best investments we ever made. It is nicely finished, and runs strong and light, doing nice work. Any one needing a good machine I do not think can do better than invest $22 in the machine and MIRROR, for $25.50 when the Company pays freight to Los Angeles.]

MORE THAN SATISFIED AND GLADLY RECOMMENDS IT."

Martha M. Shaffer, Orange: I thank you for sending to me for testimonials, as I have set my new machine in the parlor without even threading it, as I was very busy and had a good machine ready for work and used to running. So I did not take time to do anything with the new one until I received your letter. Then I brought mine and went to running it to test it. I was more than satisfied, and gladly recommend it to those who need a machine. I think I would have gained time to have used it long ago.

"EQUAL TO ANY $65 MACHINE."

Mrs. A. W. Worm, Los Angeles: For the benefit of those who stand in need of a good sewing-machine, I will say that after using the Premium Machine for about four months, I find it equal to any $65 machine I have seen.

ANNUAL TRADE NUMBER,

—CONTAINING—

A COMPLETE REVIEW OF THE YEAR.

Fifty-six Large Pages. Equivalent to a Two Hundred Page Book.

The Annual Trade Number of THE TIMES, now ready, is the most complete and interesting publication of the character ever published in Los Angeles.

NOTABLE FEATURES—It contains a business review of the year, embracing a great mass of valuable facts bearing on the city and county; a thorough exposition of our natural resources—mineral, vegetable, commercial and climatic; a review of the rise and progress of the boom, with solid proofs that the country is now in better condition than it was during the height of the real-estate excitement; a carefully compiled exposition of the varied inducements which Southern California offers to the health-seeker, the home-seeker and the tourist. Besides a number of interesting and valuable special articles on pertinent subjects. It contains more solid information about the country than could be crowded into the compass of a hundred long letters, and for a few cents and the expenditure of a few minutes' time in writing the address you can send a friend more information than you could write in a month, even if you had all the facts at hand. For a dollar you can supply ten families in the frozen East with information that may lead them to join the army of pilgrims to Southern California, to their own and this country's advantage. Thus, whether viewed from the standpoint of friendship or self-interest, it will be seen that no better use can be made of a dollar than by purchasing the rewith ten copies of the great Annual Trade Number of THE TIMES. Not one-tenth of the pleasure can be bestowed in any other way for the same amount of money.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Stocks were somewhat less active today, but the strong tone of yesterday was continued only in the forenoon, when the adverse influence prevailing became most powerful in the course of prices, and the upward movement was checked, a reaction following. The opening was strong and active, but the business done was not so well distributed as during the past few days, and stocks of the regular list, outside of grangers, Pacific stocks and New England were dull and without much feature. Pacific stocks and Short Line were helped by prospects of an amicable settlement of the Oregon Navigation lease and other matters between the Union and Northern Pacific. The close was quiet and fairly steady, generally at slight fractions better than the lowest of the day. A great majority of the active stocks tonight are fractionally lower, and Atchison and St. Paul are each down 1 per cent., but Tennessee coal rose 1 per cent., preferred 2, and Delaware and Hudson 1¼.

ACACIA CHAPTER.

A Pleasant Entertainment Last Evening.

Acacia Chapter, No. 21, of the Order of the Eastern Star, gave an entertainment last night at Turnverein Hall for the benefit of the chapter, the proceeds to be used in paying for a piano. The entertainment was much enjoyed, quite a large number of friends and members of the chapter being present. Mrs. Nannie Catching gave a violin obligato, "Angels' Serenade," from Braga. Miss Mamie Short recited Saxe's "Pyramus and Thisbe." Miss Bertha Penning sang "The Bend in the River," by Bluementhal. There was a comic recitation by Tom Barnes, who gave "The Bald-headed Man," and the programme concluded with a German dialect song in costume by G. W. Hersee. It was one of the pleasantest little entertainments given at the ball for a long time. The Eastern Star is a Masonic order, for the wives, mothers and sweethearts of the Masons of the sterner sex.

SUED AND GOT IT.

Dr. Dorsey Will Not Be Worsted in Room Rent.

Dr. Rebecca Lee Dorsey sued T. C. Narramore in Justice Savage's court yesterday to recover $75, and she got a judgment in her favor. She rented a room in the Wilson block, on Spring street, from Narramore long before the building was completed, and paid $75 in advance to secure it. It was not ready for occupancy until several months after it had been promised, and some changes were made in the original plans under which she had rented. She got other rooms, and wanted her money back, which Narramore refused to give her, claiming that he had paid it over and couldn't return it. He offered to give her the rent of the room for a month, however, which she declined, preferring to have it all or nothing. After hearing the evidence, the Court rendered his decision at once to the satisfaction of the pretty little plaintiff.

PEOPLE'S STORE.

Daily Bulletin of the Leading Dry Goods House.

LOS ANGELES, June 8, 1889.

We are going to help celebrate today. A certain industry built for the interests of the community are going to celebrate the beginning of their service in a fitting manner. As public servants and benefactors, we join in the celebration, and will make it one of note. Look at our celebration prices, and see what an event we have prepared for you. Our bargains today are such as will be long remembered, and we know June 8th will work a day in future history for the People's Store and Los Angeles.

CLOTHING DEPARTMENT.

In this department we will fire off the loudest guns—guns that will sound the cry of "Freedom from high prices," and resound in the ears of the cabbage-headed grabbing clothiers like a thunderbolt. New ideas are started. Today we help celebrate them. The time for old slow-going methods has passed. We are teaching the 'old-timers' that fact. We are bringing them out of their shells. Our prices are acting as a disinfectant—killing them off—freeing the community of the pest, and making them yell for mercy. "No mercy," "No quarter," we cry. Our mission is to purify the atmosphere. We are doing it, and the people realize the fact. We invite inspection of our methods, and will guarantee to turn out men or boys thoroughly well dressed, in the heighth of style and fashion, at prices that will set the old "mossbacks" or "old timers" crazy. Call around and see for yourselves.

Men's all-wool sack suits, large assortment, $7.33 each; old timers' price, $15.

Our boys' suits at $2.39 include a host of different styles and colors all worth at our prices from $3.50 each up. That ought to give you an idea of what they're worth. Oxygen, Compound Oxygen, Nitrous Oxide, and other inhalations, used in all

DISEASES OF THE LUNGS.

We have introduced the compound oxygen treatment with our systems of practice in the cure of Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Dyspepsia, Insomnia, Sore Throat, Catarrh, Rheumatism and Nervous Prostrat on, while only the most improved methods are employed in all female complaints.

As is well known, Oxygen is the life-giving principle in the air we breathe, and Ozone in the air imparts that happy and buoyant feeling after thunder storms. Persons often require more oxygen than is in the air around them, and cause doors and windows to be opened, tear off collars, loosen the waist, and call for a fan to displace the stifling and bring fresher air or more oxygen. Traveling is done mainly to resorts where the air contains more oxygen, and mountains are ascended to breathe the Ozone, which is light and ascends from the earth.

Oxygen and Ozone are gases, and must be stored up and used by inhaling them. Our apparatus for storing and having these gases compounded with other suitable agents is perfect, and though they are not a cure-all, yet they are undoubtedl the greatest invention made in the last twenty years in any department of medicine, and the results are truly wonderful.

Oxygen acts by purifying the blood. Thereby increases the circulation, promotes absorption, improves digestion and assimilation, increases the capability of the lungs, and acts as a gentle stimulant to the nervous system.

The London, Eng., Lancet, very truthfully says: "The compound oxygen treatment is the greatest discovery of the nineteenth century." Clergymen, Statesmen, Lawyers, Doctors and all classes indiscriminately, wherever it is introduced, both use and recommend it.

The testimonials given below are very fair samples as to the time required for effecting cures in these troublesome cases:

Dr. Williams—DEAR SIR: I am happy to say that the cure you effected in me for a severe case of throat disease has proved to be permanent. For over a year I was troubled with post-nasal catarrh and granulated throat disease, and had done so much for it that I had but little hopes of ever being cured, when I [illegible] to you. [illegible] effective assurance that you could cure me that I began your treatment, and in four months from that time you discharged me as cured, and I am happy to say the cure was a permanent thing in every particular up to the present time, which is now over a year. Yours very truly.

MRS. LUCY B. TRASK,

309 South Olive street, Los Angeles, Cal.

Dr. M. Hilton Williams—DEAR SIR: I have been contemplating for some time past making a statement of my case and the benefit I have derived from your treatment, remembering how glad I would have been could I have seen something of the kind from a person in the city, to whom I could have referred, when I first came to Los Angeles from my home in New York State.

I had been suffering for several years with what various physicians in the East pronounced "chronic ulcerated laryngitis." I spent considerable time at the Clifton Sanitarium, and employed the best medical skill I could find, all without any permanent benefit, and as a last resort our family physician recommended Los Angeles. For a time I improved, and then I began to go backward and all my former symptoms returned.

Through a medical friend I was induced to try your treatment. I became very much discouraged at times, but persevered, as I felt almost desperate and knew of nothing else to turn to. My throat trouble being aggravated by a serious stomach difficulty, made it very obstinate to deal with, but at last, after persevering for a time with your remedies, I consider I am permanently cured. If this will be of any value to you you are at perfect liberty to use it; also to refer any one to my mother, my husband or myself. Very truly yours,

MRS. J. D. WILEY,

Los Angeles, Cal.

RETIRING

FROM BUSINESS.

I would respectfully announce to the citizens of Los Angeles that, owing to a large increase in the rent of my store premises, it will not justify me to remain longer in the cigar and tobacco business at my old stand.

Therefore, please observe and take advantage of the fact that

FOR THE NEXT THIRTY DAYS

I will make a great reduction on former prices.

Imported and Key West Cigars, 10c each; former price, two for 25c.

Imported Cigars, heretofore sold three for 50c, can now be had two for 25c; and those sold for 25c can now be had for 20c.

My best brands of nickel cigars, six for 25c. Star, Climax and Horseshoe Tobacco, 45c per pound; Pacheco, for 40c per pound.

Leading brands of nickel Cigarettes, six packages for 25c; two 10c packs for 15c, and 20c packages for 15c. Still greater reductions made when sold by the box or quantity.

Meerschaum Pipes and Cigar Holders will be sold at cost. All other goods in proportion. Still greater inducements will be offered to the trade and in quantities.

As I will surrender my store on the 30th day of June, please call early and secure bargains.

I thank my friends for the liberal patronage heretofore bestowed upon me, and trust that at some future date I may be able to serve you again.
